From the Parochial Administrator: Father Andy Jaspers

*"You are my beloved Son;
with You I am well pleased."*

-Luke 3:22

I am greatly blessed to be with you this Christmastide. The mystery of Christmas is so wonderful that we can appreciate it from many sides. He is born of Mary and begotten of the Father. Today, we hear the Father affirming Jesus' sonship in company with our patron, St. John the Baptist. We who are baptized should hear those same words addressed to us as adopted sons and daughters of God: "You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased."

Two weeks ago, we accompanied the shepherds who were invited to visit Jesus in his first days. Consider their lives. They were neither educated, nor religious. They had almost the lowest status in society. Their lives would consist mostly of counting sheep and wondering if it was going to rain. Into the boredom of their wandering lives, an angel from God appears! The highest creature meets the lowliest humans in an obscure place. They would have thought that such news would be announced in a palace or the Temple. But they are the first to hear the news! And they are invited to meet the king of the world in person.

Years ago, I experienced God entering my restlessness and giving me the courage to seek priesthood. I felt called to priesthood from a young age as I experienced greater peace and joy at Mass than anywhere else. In my last year of college, I took a single apartment to see if I could live alone well. A priest has an aloneness that is different from a married person. The first semester did not go well. I found that I was mostly lonely, and was trying to fill up every minute with restless activity.

Over January, I went on an eight-day silent retreat to test my call. In the first meeting with my spiritual advisor I told him that my retreat was highly productive. I was reading St. Augustine's Confessions and receiving a new insight every minute. He said that that was nice, but that I would have to put the book down for the retreat, since the retreat was about my spiritual life, and not St. Augustine's.

On the second day of the retreat, I was pretty sure I didn't want to be a priest. On the fourth day, I did again. On the fifth day, I finished two morning holy hours and had just completed journaling the second one. It was about ten o'clock in the morning. It was too early to eat lunch. I looked at the books again and thought about reading, but I wanted to listen to my spiritual advisor's advice. I thought to get a cup of coffee but remembered that I had already had four cups.

With nothing left to do, I waited. I thought that if my restless activity stopped, I would encounter a deep loneliness at the depth of my heart. Instead, once I surrendered the restlessness, I felt a strong, intense love arising from the depth of my heart. I knew then that when I fully surrender myself to God, then I can meet Him. I knew from that moment on that I could be a happy priest, and never truly be alone.

Jesus calls you imaginatively to enter the waters with Him today. You need not bring anything with you. He comes to us in our weakness, and our task is to humbly accept Him and the great joy that He offers us. Open yourself to His joy and pray that all people can know the joy of union with Him.

That my joy may be in you, and your joy may be complete,

Father Andy Jaspers

St. Vincent de Paul Society Thank You!

On behalf of the St. Vincent de Paul Society at St. John's, we would like to extend our most heartfelt appreciation for the most generous donations made to our organization during the Thanksgiving Day collection. Your donations go to helping those in our parish and community with such essential needs as rent assistance, clothing, food, and furniture. Additionally, we want to express our deep gratitude for your remarkable response to our sock and underwear drive this past fall. So many of our neighbors have been blessed by the giving and Christian spirit of the parishioners at St. John the Baptist Church and School. Finally, just a reminder to all our parish members, should you or your family find yourselves in need of assistance with your financial obligations or other daily needs, please contact our organization through the parish office. All matters are kept strictly confidential.

For there have risen many who have given to the plain words of Holy Writ some arbitrary interpretation of their own, instead of its true and only sense, and this in defiance of the clear meaning of words. Heresy lies in the sense assigned, not in the word written; the guilt is that of the expositor, not of the text.

-Saint Hilary
(Feast Day January 13)

teams provide monthly individual prayer ministry one usually the second or third weekend of the month.

We often need prayer for family, faith, health, work, relationships and other challenges in life. The IPM teams will pray with you to bring those needs before the Lord as intercession, which together seeks the Lord's merciful help and loving comfort. Come to the Chapel of the Angels after the scheduled Mass times.

Our next Intercessory Prayer Ministry will be:
Saturday, JANUARY 15 after the 4:30 Mass
and Sunday, JANUARY 16 after the 10:30 Mass.

*"Therefore . . . pray for one another that you may be

Spiritual Adoption Update

Your spiritually adopted baby is entering his or her fourth month in the womb. The baby's brain has begun maturing - a process that will continue until he or she is about 14 years old. The eyelids are now sealed shut and will re-open at seven months. The taste buds are working. Nutrients consumed by his or her mother are passed on to the baby within an hour or two. Three hundred quarts of fluid a day are sent to the baby via the umbilical cord. Fine hair begins to grow on the head, eyebrows and eyelashes. Facial expressions similar to the baby's parents can be seen at this time. This month REM's (rapid eye movements) have been recorded - a sign of dreaming! Visit the Spiritual Adoption Table in the St. Paul Plaza and observe your baby's growth and development.

Angels in the Bible Winter Scripture

The Bible is full of passages about angels who are sent to accomplish God's will by reaching out to people. They worship God and deliver God's judgment. In Angels in the Bible series, we examine some of the Bible's most fascinating passages about angels, exploring their ministry on God's behalf and drawing insights for our own spiritual lives. Because angels are mediators of God's presence and action, studying angels is studying God. Please register online on our website for Sister Clarinda's Winter Scripture. This study is 7 lessons.

*If you need assistance, please contact the parish.
Thank you!*
