Update from Father Paul and Reflection from Deacon Derek

St. John the Baptist is experiencing incredible growth in our school and in many of our programs and activities. This coming fall our kindergarten has a waiting list, the first time in 15 years! As you can see from the posters in St. Paul Plaza, we have lived out our core values with commitment and dedication, sharing the joy of our faith thanks to a strong and vibrant community.

The wonderful support and participation of so many parishioners is encouraging and calls us forth to study not only short-term needs, but also consider long-range improvements that will keep our parish and school strong in the decades ahead. Therefore, we will be gathering input in the coming weeks as we consider several important projects including:

- Repairing and improving the interior of our church
- Repairing and updating school facilities
- Resurfacing the east parking lot
- Establishing an endowment fund for school operations

Before we can move forward, we need your feedback. Starting July 5, we will begin a comprehensive survey of our entire parish community. We will also share more details about the projects above and the possibility of a fundraising effort to pay for all, or some, of these church and school improvements.

More information will be coming soon!

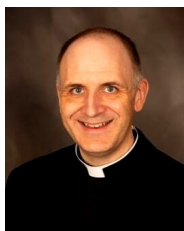

As the Father loves me, so I also love you!

Father Paul Shovelain

The American tradition of celebrating Father's Day is a noble day to celebrate. While the civil holiday as we know it does not share direct ties to our liturgical calendar, commemorating the vocation of fatherhood has significant roots in Christian Europe dating back to the Middle Ages where it was celebrated in the light of Saint Joseph's feast day. I would argue that in today's culture that is increasingly detaching itself from being built upon the foundation of the family, the importance of prayerfully honoring Father's Day is more important than ever.

In my own life my father played a role in teaching me about the Christian faith, holding me accountable to becoming a responsible adult, and modeled for me the importance of lending a hand in service. I also lost my father in my mid 20's. On one hand this was a great loss, but on the other hand God knew what I needed and connected me to a virtuous and holy man who was my pastor at the time. In essence, he became a spiritual father to me and spoke life into dark places of my life that I never thought could be redeemed and healed. In many ways, it helped me better see the order of divine fatherhood from God's closeness and tender care for the people God adopts by filial adoption. As scripture says, "I will be a father to you, and you shall be my sons and daughters, says the Lord almighty" (2 Cor 6:18).

We know that God transcends the fallible human distinction of fatherhood, but the language of our faith draws on the lived human experience in order to call us forth to live in a radically fruitful and joy-filled way. As we honor fathers and father figures who have impacted our lives, let us pray for and build up these men to become courageous imitators of God's filial love, mercy, and sacrificial living.

May God's grace and peace abound,

Deacon Derek Hill

St. Joseph The Model for Fatherhood

Happy Father's Day from St. John's Respect Life Committee

St. Joseph is rarely depicted in the full stature of manhood. Artists throughout the years have opted to portray him either as elderly or physically meek out of a misguided understanding of chastity. This holy card depicts the Most Chaste Spouse of the Blessed Virgin in his virile youth, displaying his complete dedication to fatherhood and humility. His arms are outstretched in earnest receptivity as he awaits the coming of the Messiah. The Latin title, "Prehenderat Christi – Christ Catcher" refers delicately to St. Joseph's presence and role at the birth of Jesus.

Update Letter Deacon John Belian

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

I write to tell you that I am retiring from active ministry on July 1.

In May, I asked Archbishop Hebda to grant me the status of retired deacon. I'm grateful that he granted my request. On July 1 I will be relieved of my assignments to St. John the Baptist and Mercy Hospital.

Nearly thirty-five years ago my family and I came to Minnesota because of my job transfer to the Unisys facility that was in Roseville. As our first Sunday in Minnesota approached, we drove through the neighborhood and quickly found St John the Baptist Church. We registered that Sunday and, except as I explain below, we never left.

About ten years later, Deacon Joe Kenney, with whom I'd worked at Unisys, was assigned to SJB. He decided that I was a likely prospect to be a deacon and became my personal "Hound of Heaven." I applied and, unexpectedly for me, was admitted to the formation program. Deacon Joe saw something in me that I didn't. In formation, a distinguished hospital chaplain also saw something in me that I didn't and I went through additional training to serve as a hospital chaplain.

At the time, deacons were not being assigned to their home parish. In 2008 I was assigned to four parishes in northeast Minneapolis and St. Joseph's hospital.

I enjoyed my time in northeast, they welcomed me and patiently helped me develop. At the same time, it was never far from my mind that I came out of this marvelous parish. There were so many parishioners at SJB with whom I worked before I entered formation who inspired me and taught me so much, how could I think otherwise?

So, when Fr. Paul made it possible for me to be assigned to SJB, I was grateful to come home.

Then, toward the end of last year, I realized that age had slowed me down. Through prayer and diligent discernment I discovered that it was now time for me to see something in myself that maybe others did not see: that it was time for me to retire.

I'm grateful to Fr. Paul for allowing me to serve at my home parish in my last years of active ministry. And I'm very grateful to all of you for welcoming me back.

I will remain a parishioner, I'll still be around. As a retired deacon I will retain my ministerial faculties but for a period of time I will be quiet --- spending my time reading, studying, praying, and puttering.

Gratefully yours in Christ,
Deacon John
